

TEXAS MEDICAID & MEDICARE LIMITS FOR 2023

What you don't know about paying for nursing home care could cost you both your home and your life savings. Don't let that happen! Medicaid pays for all or a part of the cost of care (depending on the facts).

To qualify for Medicaid, the person requiring care (who is the applicant for Medicaid purposes) must meet strict income and asset limits. With proper planning by a knowledgeable elder law attorney, you may be able to substantially reduce the amount of money you spend out of pocket for care.

Eligibility rules for single applicants are different from those who are married. Here are the basic guidelines:

INCOME LIMITATIONS For Medicaid	2023
Medicaid Single...
*Monthly income limit...	$2,742
Medicaid Married...
*Only one spouse needing nursing home care... (Texas follows "name on the check rule")	$2,742
Community Spouse...	No Limit
Spousal Monthly Allowance...	$3,715.50
*If the care recipient has gross countable income greater than $2,742, he or she will be deemed ineligible for Medicaid benefits. But this issue is easy to overcome! In Texas, an excess income problem is solved by using a Qualified Income Trust (QIT) otherwise known as a "Miller Trust". It is recommended the trust be drafted by a qualified elder law attorney.
There can a diversion of income to the community spouse if the spouse who lives in the community has income less than this limit.
Medicaid Couple...
Both needing nursing home care...	$5,484
